

FOG CAUSES A BAD SMASH-UP

Two Northwestern Freight Trains Met in a Rear End Collision Near the Gas House.

NO ONE INJURED

The Caboose of One of the Trains Is So Badly Smashed That It Is in Bits.

The dense fog that prevailed early this morning was one of the reasons for the rear end collision that occurred between two freight trains on the Northwestern road near the gas house shortly before seven o'clock. As a result of the collision a caboose was reduced to kindling wood and a big ten wheel engine considerably damaged.

Just who is to blame for the wreck is not known and several circumstances, including the fog, combined to bring about the smash-up. It was fortunate for the crew of the first train that no one was in the wrecked caboose, or they certainly would have been killed or badly injured. The wrecked train was No. 882, in charge of Conductor Anderson and on account of the crowded condition of the local yards had been held out on the bridge until the yard men could make room for them. The caboose was nearly up to the gas house and was in charge of the rear brakeman who evidently did not go back up the track to flag approaching trains. If he had the accident would not have occurred.

Second Freight
Freight No. 322 from Fond du Lac to Belvidere was following the wrecked train and was given a clear block from Milton Junction to Janesville, by the train dispatcher at Fond du Lac, who was trying to get the freights out of the way of the passenger trains. After 322 had left Milton Junction, the dispatcher found that 882 was not able to get into the yards at Janesville, so stopped the train at the Mississippi crossing tower and warned them to look out for No. 322. Engineer Hackbush then came on toward the city at a slow rate of speed and was keeping a sharp look-out for the train in front of him. The fog was so thick that he could hardly see two car lengths ahead and just as he reached the bluff street viaduct, he saw the rear brakeman of Anderson's train coming toward him giving him signals to stop. At this time he was not more than three car lengths from Anderson's caboose. He put on the brakes full force and tried to stop, but the rails being wet and the heavy train behind pushing ahead forced the engine into the caboose.

Caboose Smashed
In a second, the caboose caught between the big engine and the loaded cars ahead was doubled up like a jack-knife, and split in half. The big engine was forced off the track and had its front end caved in besides receiving numerous other injuries. The wrecking crew were at once notified and as soon as the cars ahead were pulled out of the way they dragged the wrecked caboose off from the engine and dumped it down the bank on each side of the track, where it was soon broken up and carried away by the people residing in that vicinity.

Wreck Cleared
The engine was then jacked up and after several hours' work was placed on the rails.

Tied Up Business
The wreck caused quite a tie-up on the North Wisconsin division. Back of the wrecked engine and its train was another big freight with two engines and back of that the Watertown passenger. The Fond du Lac passenger due to leave at 6:55 a. m. was held at the station, as were other trains that connect here. While no lives were lost and the property loss was not very heavy, the road was put to a great deal of inconvenience.

Red Hat Is Likely to Be American Prelate's Portion if Philippine Question Is Solved.

Rome, March 13.—The situation with regard to the appointment of Archbishop Ireland as cardinal is unchanged. Regarding the views of the apostolic delegate at Washington as to the wisdom of such an appointment the Vatican has always instructed the apostolic delegates to keep in touch with the trend of public opinion ever since Cardinal Satolli was at Washington, when the Vatican understood that President Cleveland would view with satisfaction the nomination of Archbishop Ireland.

ALL CONGRESS MAY CONVENE

Roosevelt Is Said To Be Determined That the Cuban Bill Shall Not Be Beaten.

SENATE WARNED

Leaders Told That No Adjournment for Lack of a Quorum Will Be Allowed.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.)
Washington, March 13.—It is probable that there will be an extra session of congress called for the early fall to take up the Cuban bill if the present amendments now pending in the senate are passed.

President in Earnest
It is learned from the highest authority that President Roosevelt will call a special session of congress to act on the Cuban question. He is reported to have told several democratic leaders that if the senate insisted in tacking on the amendment he would call an extra session.

Concurrent Consent
The amendment referred to is one which was tacked onto the bill in the senate committee to the effect that the house of representatives must concur with the senate action on the bill. This will delay the force of the bill to such an extent it will not be of great benefit to the Cuban at present when it is needed.

Must Settle Question
The president has also notified the senate leaders that he will not accept the defeat of either the Panama canal treaty or reciprocity treaty through a lack of securing a quorum, but will hold them in session until a quorum is obtained and a vote is taken.

Senate's Plans
Thursday of next week has been settled by the republicans of the senate upon which to take a final vote on the Cuban reciprocity treaty, the vote is to be followed by immediate adjournment of the present extra session.

To Be Submitted
This proposition is to be submitted to the democrats today. The republican steering committee this morning decided the republicans should present a united front against the acceptance of any amendments to the Panama canal treaty. Also agreed to accept amendments proposed to Cuban treaty including that which requires concurrence of house in terms of treaty.

MOVE INTO HOME AT TOKIO, JAPAN

YOUNG MISSIONARIES HAVE INTERESTING EXPERIENCES.

LETTER FROM MRS. HIBBARD

She Writes of Their Going Ashore and of Their First Glimpses of Japan.

Especially interesting to the friends of Mrs. C. V. Hibbard, now of Tokio, Japan, will be her first letter written home after her arrival in the capital of the far-away island. Many expressions of pleasure have been received from Gazette readers because of the opportunity given through its columns of looking at Japan and the Japanese through Mrs. Hibbard's eyes. Her description of the long ocean voyage which was the completion of her wedding trip with her young missionary husband, was widely read with great interest. The next letter received from her, mailed in Tokio on November 15 and received in Janesville on December 6, tells of their new home in Tokio and of their experiences in getting settled. Mrs. Hibbard writes:

House Cleaning Begins
"I wish you could step in now and see just how it is with us at 39 Fujimi Cho. Of course we are not settled enough yet to live there but we go over from the Helms' every morning after breakfast, and work. We have two Japanese servants over there cleaning. It is astonishing how we can make ourselves understood with so few words spoken on either side. Our vernacular for scrub floor is the gesture of stooping and rubbing. To sweep down the walls just put the broom with a cloth over it into his hand and show him how to do it. So we have a great deal of fun seeing how much we can do with a little."

Beautiful Glimpse of Japan
"I have so many things to tell you that I must begin at the beginning and recount in order or I shall forget. I left you the night before we reached Yokohama, I believe. You may imagine we were up bright and early the next morning to see the city. Such a view! Before us the grayish green of the foliage of Yokohama; beyond it the dazzling white of the peak of Fuji Yama and all lighted by the most glorious sunrise I have ever seen. Dr. Sasamori was in his seventh heaven, exclaiming over the beauties of his native land. I confess he had reason to."

Eager To Land
"Getting into port was a long but extremely interesting operation. You see the Iyo Maru couldn't land on account of the wind so we had to go ashore in small boats (sampans) or yachts. The Japanese were so anxious to get home that they fairly piled over the boat's side—some with gorgeous half-Americanized frills and turbans, green feathered hats, pink silk undershirts blowing in the stiff sea breeze as they took off their wooden shoes to go down the ship's ladder."

Scene of Confusion
"And all the while below such a pandemonium let loose! With their sampans each man was trying to get to the boat first, using their queer crooked oars with which they scull through the water. Yelling, splashing, getting run down by the yachts—it was worth being seasick to see. I realize how mild and quiet my description of it all is in comparison with the loudness of the scene, but you will see for yourself some day how inadequate words are to describe it."

Not So Funny
"We didn't laugh quite so much when it came our turn to descend the ladder and hold ourselves together while we jumped from one yacht to another, expecting to be cast into the deep blue sea; nor when that same deep blue sea carried us up and down over its choppy waves to shore; nor when we crawled out over a foot plank. However, Mr. and Mrs. Helm with Mr. and Mrs. Fisher were there at the Custom's Pier to welcome us and 'all's well that ends well.'"

Safe On Land
"I found Mrs. Helm a very kind, thoughtful Alpha Phi, with a big, bouncing two-year old. She jabsbers Japanese finely, as I hope to some day. Mrs. Fisher is a dear little woman. They made us feel at home and have straightened many a knotty problem for us."

"We spent the afternoon in Yokohama, shopping, going around in jirikishas, which are called kurumas here. The next day we came over and examined the house. I confess I felt a bit 'gone' when I saw its arrangement but I hope it will work itself out all right. I wonder if I can draw you a plan of it. Such a complication of rooms deserves an architect or at least a better artist than I am."

The New Home
"Almost the entire first floor is devoted to the peculiar shaped reception room with many odd jogs in it. Along one side of it is the porch onto which double doors open, the small dining room and a pantry. An alley connects the reception room and the dining room with the cook's domain which is some distance from the main part of the house. The workshop and bathroom are also out here."

Trees and Flowers
"Our library will be upstairs. We have to use lamps but have electric bells and the landlady is put in waterworks. The yard is beautiful. Cherry trees, camellias in blossom now and palms. We are going to plant hollyhocks along the back bamboo fence and sweet peas are to be planted very soon to bloom in April. Next year we want to plant some bulbs and rose bushes. Roses are lovely here."

Unpacking Household Goods
"Our goods came to the house on Monday and we unpacked. We first got our wheels in shape for they have a great deal of kuruma fare. We found that they came through beautifully with not a mark or stain. I can't tell you how much good mine has done me already. The roads are better than at home and the scenery beautiful so we enjoy our rides to and from our work. Wheels are a great institution for shopping too. "My mirror was smashed to pieces but otherwise things came well. Lisle and I set up the range together one morning. The cook whom we have secured was delighted with it and told Mrs. Fisher that it was the finest in Tokio. The cook had worked eleven years for a German family and three in an English home here and knows a deal of English. He seems to be like Martha, careful and troubled about much serving, but I guess he will do. He has cleaned the kitchen and quarters, putting my tins and cooking utensils in their places and is whitewashing the kitchen now. I had him wash the shelves with diluted carbolic acid for they weren't exactly clean. His quarters are thoroughly Japanese; no chairs or table, matting on the floor, paper walls."

"Lisle has already made his bench for carpenter work and ordered his lumber. Our library has three windows and three doors and a fireplace (there is also a fireplace in the reception room downstairs). All the rest of the space will be bookshelves up four and a half feet, panels up three feet and a shelf around the top, even with the top of the windows. That is not exactly accurate for one vacant space—the one near the fireplace is to be a seat with a high back."

"I find that this letter must go today if it gets off on this steamer. It's a decidedly strenuous life we are living, with many invitations to accept besides our work here at the home. I am sitting on one end of Lisle's work bench and writing while he is carpentering. Yesterday I bought part of our dishes. When our table and beds come from Yokohama, which will be very soon, we will begin to eat here. We had to buy a number of cooking utensils here, which hurt my feelings very much when I remembered home and friends so dear."

Climate Causes Trouble
"I don't want to say good-bye now, but I must. This climate makes people's heads bad and mine is getting that way so I must stop. We will be with you Thanksgiving time in spirit. We can have turkey too in Tokio, they say: so we'll eat to your health then."

TRAINMEN SEE A JEWELER WEEKLY

Railroad Men Have for Three Years Been Obligated to Keep Their Watches Together.

Every week all trainmen engaged in active service on both Milwaukee and North-Western roads are obliged to take their watches to a watch inspector to be sure that their timepieces are in accord with standard railroad time. Penalty is enforced for the violation of this rule, a lay off of from ten to thirty days being the usual result.

It is said that train wrecks have decreased 33 1-3 per cent. since 1898 when this rule first went into force. Practically all rules in the United States, as well as those running into this city are under the same rule. Those who come under the provisions of the rule are engineers, train crew, including the brakemen, baggage men and switchmen, as well as train masters and dispatchers.

Watches of a specified standard are carried by all of these trainmen, no variation of more than thirty seconds being allowed. Milwaukee is the city where most of the watches are inspected, two or three firms doing practically all of the work. In order to secure as nearly as possible absolute uniformity.

CASEY'S TROUBLES AT OPERA HOUSE

The Show Last Night Was Not One Which Will Set Town Talking.

Troubles, some of them belonging to Casey and others more intimately connected with the audience, occupied the Myers Grand last evening. Barry Gray as Casey was not the worst of the company. To whom that distinction belonged it would be unkind to say, if not impossible. Some of the Janesville features were not bad. The Kennedy "Innocent kids," received quite a liberal hand for their singing and cake walking. Doodly and Wright made a three base hit, and were called back more than once. Doodly, in a spike tail coat and tennis slippers, had a way with him that took.

LET LEOHLI GO

Albert Leoehli who was picked up by Officer Bencke on Thursday morning wandering about in a crazed manner was released last night by Chief Hogan who decided that he was merely subject to violent fits of anger and despondency and was perfectly harmless.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, March 13, 1863.—Mr. Sat Clark is advertised to address the democratic club tonight. We wish he would tell the democrats here whether he is or not in favor of immediately withdrawing armies from the south, whether he believes in enforcing the law all over the United States alike, by armed force if necessary. As he declares for peace what are the only last terms he would offer? How can terms of peace to rebels be made, and who has the legal right to propose them so that they may be binding upon both parties, if accepted? If the rebels will listen to no terms whatever, what would he advise the government to do next?

Our report of the council proceedings last evening is unusually interesting. The finances of the city

ODD FELLOWS TO IMPROVE BLOCK

EAST SIDE LODGE HOME TO UNDERGO CHANGES.

PLANS ALREADY SUBMITTED

Decided at Meeting to Go Ahead—Practical Builders Appointed on the Committee.

Extensive improvements in the East Side Odd Fellows hall are now assured. Wisconsin Lodge, No. 14, I. O. O. F., met Wednesday evening, and decided to go ahead. The plans drafted by L. L. Hilton were accepted, subject to alterations such as may later be determined upon, and a committee of practical builders was appointed to consult with Mr. Hilton, and to assume charge of the project. W. H. Blair, J. G. Wray, and Floyd Hurd are the members of the committee, which, in consultation with the board of trustees of the lodge, will oversee the arrangements for the remodeled fraternal home.

To Move Stairway
In the form in which the plans were submitted to the order by Mr. Hilton, changes are to be made on every floor of the building. On the ground floor a new front, of a modern steel and plate glass pattern, is to be used for the two stores. The stairway which now has its entrance between the two stores will be moved to the south, but this subtraction will be compensated by the space at the north side of the store which is now occupied by the stairway.

Extending to the second floor the stairway will be broken off by a landing half way up. On the ground floor there will be a generous vestibule. Radical changes will be made in the arrangement of the rooms on the second floor. Every partition will be taken down from the front wall, back a distance of thirty-three feet. This will give a room 33x43 feet for the lodge room. A steel ceiling will add to its attractiveness. Small closets at each corner will make the room octagonal in shape.

Spacious Lodge Room
In addition to these four small closets there will be six others, making a total of ten ward rooms for storing the paraphernalia of the order. The present lodge room will be made a dining room, 21x36 feet in size, and the rear parlor will be used as a kitchen, 13x15 feet in dimensions. There will also be an ante room, 10x15 feet, and a ladies parlor with toilet room, 12x14 feet. A fuel room and pantry will occupy the space where the lockers are now situated. A hall will connect the dining room directly with the stairs to the hall above, making it convenient to serve supper in connection with a dance.

Power changes are planned for the third floor. The musicians' stand in the dancing hall will be suspended from the ceiling, at a height of seven feet from the floor. The present check room will become a gentlemen's dressing room. Two dumb waiters will connect with the check room on the floor above.

Gallery For Musicians
On the fourth floor, reached by stairs from the dancing hall, there will be a check room, 8 by 20 feet, and a smoking and card room, 20 by 16 feet.

All of these proposed changes are subject to the judgment of the committee which has the improvements in charge. It is planned to rush the work with all advisable speed. Those who have examined the plans feel confident that in its remodeled form the block will be unexcelled by the home of any order in the city.

NO TYPHOID GERMS INFEST JANESVILLE

City Is Very Free from the Disease Which Has Ravaged Many Other Cities.

Over a score of deaths and an appalling list of sick list victims from typhoid, has given Ithaca, New York, a nation wide but wholly unenviable prominence of late. During the same period, so far as inquiry among a number of physicians could determine, there has been not a single case of sickness of that nature. Dr. Edden, health officer of the city, says that no case of typhoid has come to his notice this winter. It is not required that the doctors report such cases to him, but he believes that he would have heard of them if there had been any.

This noteworthy immunity from typhoid contagion is attributed largely to the excellent water supply of the city and to the greater degree of cleanliness which is coming to exist in regard to garbage disposition. The alleys which formerly gave considerable offense, are now in much better condition.

PRACTICE FOR THE GAME NEXT MONDAY

High School Working to Learn Gym.—Miss Fox Chosen Captain—Other Athletic News.

Practice is going on apace for the basketball match at the Y. M. C. A. gym on Monday evening, between the High school and Association fives. Wednesday evening the high school first and second teams met under the coaching of Athletic Director Norris in the gymnasium where they are to play, and held a brisk practice in order to become acquainted with the location of the baskets and the peculiarities of the room. The gym has always been somewhat of a huddle for visiting teams, and the High school men are determined to familiarize themselves with it as much as possible. They expect to practice in the same place again this evening.

Miss Fox Captain
At a meeting of the girls basketball team of the high school Miss Lucy Fox was elected captain for the coming year's team. Throughout the most season she has been one of the most consistent players of the team, holding the position of forward. In several games she has scored the maximum of individual points.

To Bowl Wednesday
On next Wednesday evening the two teams of attorneys which met at the Hockett alleys in a bowling match this week will meet again. Captain Palmer's men are confident that in a second contest they can come out victorious, and in behalf of his team Captain Peterson has accepted a challenge for the second match. Wednesday has been fixed upon as the most convenient evening.

MASONS CONDUCTED FUNERAL SERVICE

Remains of the Late Josiah Arnold Were Interred in Oak Hill Cemetery Today.

Funeral services for the late Josiah Arnold were held from the home, 155 South Wisconsin street, this afternoon at two o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. A. H. Barrington, rector of Christ church, and were largely attended, large delegations from the local Masonic lodges being present.

The interment was in Oak Hill cemetery, the impressive burial service of the Masonic order being used at the grave. Western Star Lodge, No. 14, F. and A. M., had charge of this final ceremony and the gentlemen who served as pall bearers were members of the lodge. They were F. Howe, R. Bostwick, S. Hotelling, M. Ehringer, W. Filfield and F. Filfield.

Josiah Arnold, whose remains were laid at rest in Oak Hill cemetery this afternoon, was one of Janesville's pioneer business men. He was born in the town of Washington, Berkshire county, Mass., Nov. 1, 1820. In 1821 his parents moved to Stockbridge, Mass., where his father, Sylvester Arnold, died Oct. 18, 1845.

Later Mr. Arnold lived in Canaan, Columbia county, N. Y., for ten years, afterwards residing for various periods in New York City, Stockbridge, Washington, Mass., Maryland, Virginia and Hamilton, Madison county, N. Y. He taught school in the latter place until he came west in the spring of 1843. On coming to Wisconsin, Mr. Arnold located first at Stoughton but moved to Janesville in the fall of 1843.

Mr. Arnold was prominently identified with this city's early history. He taught the first public school in this city and in the spring of 1844, at the close of his school, he clerked for one year in this city. In the spring of 1845 he commenced a general mercantile business with Daniel E. Bassett at Columbus, Wis., in the fall of that year, closing out the business at Janesville the following spring. He continued in business with Mr. Bassett at Columbus until 1847 and carrying on the business alone for another year.

In 1851 he went to Portage, engaging in the hardware business with J. B. Fargo. In 1861 he engaged in the lumber business, operating a large mill at Germantown, Juneau county and also being associated with Carnegie and Prescott in a lumber yard and planing mill at Portage. He owned extensive pine lands in Marathon and Clark counties and was in prosperous circumstances. Several years ago he returned to Janesville to spend his declining years.

Mr. Arnold was a public spirited citizen and held many positions of responsibility and trust. He was appointed clerk of the circuit court at Columbus in 1848 and elected to the same position in the fall of that year. In 1850 he was elected register of deeds, holding the office for two years. He was postmaster at Columbus for two years, alderman of Portage for three years and was for several years mayor of Portage. He was also elected to the assembly in 1877. He was prominent in the Masonic order, being a Knight Templar.

Mr. Arnold was married on December 20, 1846, in the town of Fulton, this county. His wife was Mary Jane True, who passed away in this city in 1896. Five children were born to them, three of whom, Samuel E. Harry E., and Fred D. Arnold, still survive. The eldest son Charles J., died in 1896, and William S., the second son, died in 1902.

The old Clark house on South Bluff street, now owned by John Thorogood, is being raised on jacks, preparatory to building a higher foundation. Other improvements will be made in the dwelling.

Head

Hurt So Badly Was Nearly Crazy.

Had no Sleep—Could Hardly Lie Down.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Permanently Cured Me.

"A year ago I suffered from extreme nervous stomach trouble. I was afraid of everything, could not bear to hear singing or music and reading or hearing of a death nearly brought on my own. I could not sleep or hardly lie down, the back of my head hurt me so badly I nearly went crazy. My shoulders hurt and the least thing I did would bring on an attack of extreme nervousness. There were times when I would have a lump in my throat and my mouth would be so dry I could hardly speak. I was in despair until I began to take Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I have taken in all twelve bottles and consider myself permanently cured. My home doctor has since remarked on my healthy appearance and said he wished he could say his medicine helped me. He knows it was Dr. Miles' Nervine. We are never without the Anti-Pain Pills and consider our medicines household remedies. I cannot say enough for the Nervine, because in addition to my own case my daughter, who was out of school for a long time because of St. Vitus' dance, was completely cured by eight bottles. She is now feeling fine and going to school every day. We thank you for your kindness and will never stop singing the praises of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine."—Mrs. C. E. King, Lima, O.

A Layman's Lenten Sermon.

Fifteenth day of Lent: St. Matthew xxiv 42v.—Watch therefore; for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come.

Is not this advice of Christ to the people of his age good advice for we who live today, twenty centuries later?

"Watch for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come."

This does not mean that we should fear the coming of the Lord, but rather that we should be ready to join in the rejoicing and the great pleasure of the event. We should be so pure of mind that we could go before the great Judge and fear not.

To do this all we should govern our lives accordingly from day to day. We should think of things not merely terrestrial but of the higher sphere, we hope some day to inhabit with the beloved ones gone before us. Death loses half its sting when we can think with security that some day we and our dear ones will be joined together once more in that promised hereafter. But to do this we must guard against temptations.

This world is full of these temptations. Since first the serpent tempted our Mother Eve in the beautiful garden of Eden to eat of the tree of life and she did, we have been beset by temptations of one kind or another. They have become part of our existence and it is to overcome them that character is developed and men rise above each other in worldly opinion by this means.

This is a Lenten season. Let us take time from our society doings to think over our lives. To search out our past and present; to see if we are ready to come face to face with our Maker at that last great judgment day.

BEFORE THE FOOTLIGHTS.

Mr. Frederick Warde, who appears here on next Wednesday evening at the Grand theater with Mr. Louis James in Wagenthals & Kemper's elaborate production of Shakespeare's "Tempest," is a most enthusiastic Shakespearean scholar and often is called upon by institutions to deliver lectures upon the immortal Bard of Avon.

After one of his lectures in a Western co-ed institution, Mr. Warde was being presented to the students when he at last encountered a maiden of the effusive type who upon grasping his hand, rushed out: "Oh, Mr. Warde, I enjoyed your lecture."

David Harum

"David Harum" will be presented at the Myers Grand this evening with W. H. Turner as the shrewd, sharp and witty old countryman made famous by Edward Noyes Wescott's widely read book. The presentation of the play has been awaited with a great deal of interest. The comedy comes with the glitter and eclat of its New York and Boston runs. Upon its first production in New York it ran for sixteen weeks and its success there, which it later repeated in Chicago and Boston was terrific. Those who witnessed the play this

"THERE AIN'T A SCRATCH NER A PIMPLE ON HIM; HE'S SOUND AN' KIND. A LADY KIN DRIVE HIM, AS WELL AS A MAN, AN' HELL STAND WITHOUT HITCHIN'."

SCENE IN "DAVID HARUM."

ture ever so much. I think Shakespeare dreadfully interesting. "don't you?" All expected Mr. Warde to squelch her with a sarcastic answer, but, with his broadest smile the tragedian replied: "Indeed he is dreadfully interesting and besides he's awfully cute."

evening will find in it three scenes that are likely to be remembered for many days. One of these is the horse trade with Deacon Perkins. The second is a scene showing the Deacon trying to drive the bawky horse during a heavy shower of rain. The third is a scene in the sitting room of Aunt Polly's home on Christmas morning when David tells the story of his boyhood visit to the circus and of the whipping which followed.

Mr. Cahn has given the play a thoroughly adequate production and the company is described as being one of much strength and cleverness.

gister of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Tolles, is well known here having lived here all her life. The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Robinson and has lived in this vicinity nearly all his life.

They will go to housekeeping at once on a farm recently purchased by the groom. The best wishes of their many friends go with them.

IS BUSY SEASON FOR TWO LODGES

MUCH WORK FOR MODERN WOOD-MEN AND ROYAL NEIGHBORS.

SEVERAL BIG EVENTS COMING

Monster Picnic, Two Conventions and Two Entertainments
Within Three Months.

This spring and early summer are to be unusually busy ones for Florence Camp No. 266 Modern Woodmen of America and Crystal Camp No. 132 Royal Neighbors of America. The great event, of course, will be the annual Woodman picnic during the first week in June but before that time there will be two conventions, an anniversary celebration and the entertainment of several visiting camps of Royal Neighbors.

The annual convention of the Southern Wisconsin and Northern Illinois Picnic association meets here next Thursday, March 19. On the first day of April the county convention of the Modern Woodmen meets here to select delegates to the state convention to be held in La Crosse. Banquets will be served in connection with both these conventions.

For Royal Neighbors
Wednesday evening, March 25, will be anniversary meeting for the local camp of Royal Neighbors and while no elaborate celebration will be held, the event will be appropriately observed. It will be a family gathering, a card party with light refreshments being held at the close of the lodge meeting.

On the night of their first meeting in May the Royal Neighbors will entertain the camps from Albany, Beloit, Evansville and Shopiere and possibly from some other of the surrounding cities. There will be a banquet served about 5 o'clock and the Beloit camp will be invited to exemplify the work in the evening.

Picnic Association First
Just at present, however, both the Modern Woodmen and the Royal Neighbors are giving their attention to the preparations for entertaining the picnic association next Thursday. The Royal Neighbors are to serve the banquet in West Side Odd Fellows hall, the banquet committee being Mesdames Charles Kemmerer, A. Haskins and John W. Boyes. The Modern Woodmen have entrusted their share of the banquet arrangements to Thurston L. Mason.

Are Arranging Program
The officers of the picnic association have charge of the program which will follow the banquet. The address of welcome will be given by Mayor Victor P. Richardson and F. P. Starr, president of the association will preside as toastmaster. There will be music by an orchestra and several toasts, but the list of speakers may not be completed until the arrival of the delegates on the morning of the convention.

Bad Alley: There is a good chance for the city health officers to do some missionary work in the alley way in the rear of the West Side fire station. The alley is choked up with garbage and ashes and now that warm weather has arrived, the water from the melting piles of refuse runs down to River street where it stays until it soaks into the ground. The water is full of disease germs and if the alley is left in its present condition much longer it is liable to cause much sickness.

BELIEVE BILL IS NOT RIGHT

MANUFACTURERS MET YESTER-DAY AND CONSIDERED IT.

DETRIMENTAL TO SHIPPERS

They Will Probably Meet Again Before Tuesday, When the Bill Will Come Up.

"Until I have seen more of the bill, I would not want you to quote my name as saying this, but as I understand its provisions I should say that it is one of the most sweeping before the legislature and very detrimental to the interests of the manufacturers of the state. It is my prediction that Madison will be crowded on Tuesday, when the committee will meet to consider the bill, with manufacturers to protest against its passage."

Meeting Held Yesterday
This is the statement made by a gentleman who is closely identified with one of the large manufacturing plants of this city, at the close of the meeting of local shippers held at the office of the Janesville Machine Co., yesterday afternoon. It was a representative gathering, the purpose of which was discussion of the railroad commission bill now before the legislature in its probable effect upon shippers of this and other Wisconsin cities.

Is Strongly Opposed
Two years ago, a railroad bill, in all essential features the counterpart of this, was before the legislature and was killed. On Tuesday the committees of both houses at Madison hope that they may be able to deal it a death blow at that time. Several Janesville manufacturers will probably be in the number. Meetings similar to that held here yesterday are the rule in all of the large shipping centers of Wisconsin at present.

Will Meet Again
The time yesterday afternoon was all too short for the purpose, and after going over a number of the sections of the bill quite thoroughly, the meeting adjourned, probably to meet again, if not more than once, before Tuesday. Some of those who were present at the meeting yesterday profess not to fully understand its bearing as yet, but say that it appears to be aimed most directly at mileage freight.

RICHTER GOES AS MEXICAN INSPECTOR

Big Plantation of Coffee, Ma-

G. H. Richter has been appointed inspector of a large plantation in Mexico, and expects to leave early next week to assume his new duties. The plantation is owned by the syndicate by which Mr. Richter has for some time been employed. He had acted largely as a salesman of stock in the company, and has but recently returned from Cincinnati where he was employed. The plantation to which he is to go is large, the principal products being coffee, mahogany, caoutchouc and bananas. The company also operates a small steamship line.

GRUNDY TALKED INSURANCE BILL

Spoke at Madison Before Joint Committee on Finance, Banks and Insurance.

At a meeting of the joint committee on finance, banks, and insurance at Madison Wednesday, Samuel Grundy of this city was one of the speakers. The subject under discussion was the bill which provides for the repeal of the section of the revised statutes allowing incorporation of local boards of underwriters, which, it is claimed, can form combinations to affect rates, something which the companies are forbidden to do.

Mr. Grundy read a paper in which he urged that the proviso in the statutes nullifies the law. He told how an agent fixes rates, the local board ratifies them, the agents form a union with a censor, who passes on all policies, thus establishing an absolute monopoly. He said that Janesville has paid half a million dollars above its losses in ten years. Still it is proposed again to raise rates. It is only recently, he said, that there has not been competition in the insurance business. Why, he asked, should not insurance be sold for what it is worth, like other merchandise?

CLUB WOMEN TALK ABOUT WISCONSIN

Interesting Meeting of the Eastern Star Study Class Held

Thursday Afternoon.
One of the most interesting meetings of the season was enjoyed by the Eastern Star Study class Thursday afternoon, the meeting being held at the home of Mrs. Frank B. Strickler, 3 East street, north. Mrs. Strickler was assisted in receiving and entertaining the ladies of the class by Mrs. B. F. Carle.

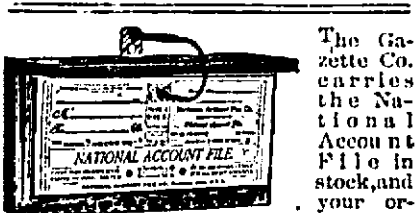

Wisconsin was the subject for the afternoon's study and roll call was responded to with current events. Mrs. George Butts discussed the artists of Wisconsin and Mrs. J. B. Stevens told of the state's sculptors. Mrs. W. Z. Wimbler spoke of the state capitol and the historical library and Mrs. B. F. Carle's subject was the Wisconsin exhibit at the Pan-American.

After the program, the class discussed the subject of next year's work and while no definite conclusions were reached, it is probable that the class will continue their miscellaneous programs. Dainty light refreshments were served by the hostesses.

It was decided to omit the program on travel which was planned for the next meeting which will be held March 26. The meeting will be held with Mrs. W. H. Ashcraft and the ladies will take their needlework.

THE WAREHOUSE SEASON CLOSING

TOBACCO ASSORTING FINISHED FOR SOME.

THREE FIRMS ARE NOW IDLE

Will Reopen Later, But Final Closing Is Not Far Away—Many Employees.

Three tobacco warehouses have already concluded assorting and packing for the present, but at least two of them expect to secure enough more tobacco to keep them busy for some time to come. The warehouses which have closed are those of J. A. and T. A. Ryan on Holmes street, T. E. Welsh on West Milwaukee and A. N. Jones on North Main street.

These houses are temporarily out of tobacco and expect to resume work after an intermission of about ten days. Just how long operations will continue after that the proprietors of the warehouses are not in a position to say.

Ready To Close
In several of the warehouses the end is comparatively near, while others believe that they will still be running a full force two months from now. J. L. & M. F. Greene finished packing tobacco for L. Well of New York this week, but are still busy in the assorting rooms with other tobacco leaf.

E. J. Well, who attended to the interests of the company in this city and Edgerton and other cities, has returned to his New York home. It is estimated that the force of girls and women employed in the city in the tobacco houses is as large now as it has been or will be at any time in the season. A number of the girls who have temporarily been thrown out of work in the warehouses which are now closed have found occupation elsewhere.

The prices paid the girls varies somewhat in the different houses, due in large part to the different methods in use. The average wages, however, it is said, are nearly the same throughout.

Are Of Good Character
While talking of the employees of the warehouses L. B. Carle paid a high tribute to their character. He said: "Take them right through and you will find about as much character among them, as in any other lot of working women you find anywhere. Now and then you see a gum chewer or a gazer, but the most of them are industrious and conscientious. Many of them are married women. Some of them in this warehouse have been with me for ten years, every season."

"The other day I got a letter from a physician's daughter in Iowa. She had heard about the girls who are needed in this city, and wanted to come and learn the business. Of the girls who are employed in the city, I should say that perhaps twenty-five per cent. are new this year."
